01 THE ADVENTURE

The adventure began in 2009, when Natalia started university in Chile and became interested in the fashion world. At that time, she started selling jewellery to her first clients, her family, and friends. Very soon, she began designing her own jewels and learned different handcraft techniques.

This milestone marked the creation of MÀra Orfebreria which later became Sàntibé Bijoux. The brand expanded over time in many Chilean cities, including important stores in the capital, Santiago.

The project continued its development in Spain after several trips to Europe. This was an exciting moment and turning point in Natalia's career.

In August 2018, while on holiday in Greece, she met Thibault for the first time. This marked the beginning of a beautiful love story. After two years, Natalia left Chile and moved to Paris.

Already partners in life, Thibault joined Natalia's project in 2022.

Today, this lovely story continues in our Parisian atelier and in Latin America, where 30 artisans work for the Sàntibé.

We look forward to continuing this great adventure with you!

Natalia Santibañez and Thibault Bourhis

02 THE INSPIRATION

We make jewellery that exudes Patagonia and the sun, in all seasons!

Inspired by the colours of Patagonia, our creations are an invitation to travel, to freedom and to the uniqueness of women.

From the first sketch to the final embellishment, our jewellery is the result of our creator's imagination and artistic sensibility. Inspired by Patagonian nature, our collections are chic, sunny, and colourful.

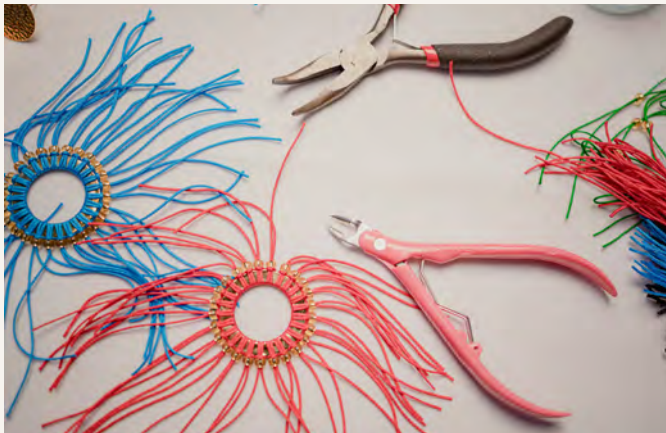

"I wanted to bring pleasure to women with jewellery in the colours of Chilean Patagonia. As I was born there, this is my way of bringing this faraway land closer to the rest of the world."

Natalia Santibanez
Creative Director

03 THE SANTIBÉ SIGNATURE

At Sàntibé, we take care of our craftspeople to ensure their development in the best conditions (long-term work commitment, a fair wage and the freedom to work at their own pace). Every day, we work to bring you unique, high-quality handmade creations.

Making

Our jewellery is made in France and Latin America.

We highly value handmade work, therefore we ensure that our artisans benefit from the growth of the brand and are rewarded and recognized for their work. Many of them have been with us for more than ten years.

It is thanks to you, our dear customers, that around thirty families are able to make a living from weaving in Colombia.

Since our establishment in France in 2020, part of our production has been carried out in our atelier in Paris.

Quality

Sàntibé creations are made to last. Our jewellery have a brass base which are gold-plated with a minimum thickness of 3 microns.

04 SAVOIR-FAIRE

The creative process

It all begins with inspiration, an idea and a drawing. Jaime, our master goldsmith since 2009, brings our creations to life using 3D software. Every season, we spend some precious time in his workshop, imagining the collections of tomorrow.

A craft, two processes

#1

Brass metal plates are laser-cut to give life to the pieces used to weave our jewellery.

#2

Once the prototype has been produced, the metal is cast into special moulds for mass production.

The final signature

The metal pieces are then hammered and gilded. This is Sàntibé's signature.

04 SAVOIR-FAIRE

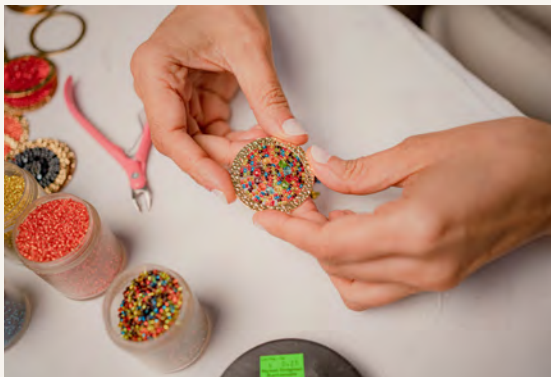

Our jewellery is like no other. We use South American craft techniques that are rarely applied in Europe, such as needle pearl weaving and macramé.

Needlepoint bead weaving

This technique uses a transparent thread to weave the coloured pearls and crystals together by hand.

This traditional and ancestral technique is rarely practised in France, however, it is known as pearl mosaic.

This traditional and ancestral technique is rarely practised in France, however, it is known as pearl mosaic. It is also known as pearl mosaic.

This unique method was used by the Amerindian peoples to create their jewellery. The work is meticulous, it requires a lot of time and patience (up to 6 hours for the largest pieces).

Le Macramé

For our summer collections, our craftspeople create macramé pieces by forming knots with waxed thread on a gold-plated metal base. The repetition of this hand motion creates patterns in the shape of stars. After, we incorporate pearls and crystals to highlight the colour combinations.
